

Press Release

Bremen, July 07th 2008 - The management of hoorai.XQ has decided to part with its Warcraft-III division and says goodbye to its players officially. The organization is planning a new orientation in the department of strategy games as a result of failed qualifying and disappointing results.

In spite of inconstant performance of the young team, hoorai.XQ has always tried to support its players optimally.

When the 'elfittaja transfer' disturbed the inner calmness and an assumed performer was out of game, they supported their protégés further on.

The hoorai GmbH as a young company has its purpose in the best development of its own product that is for example the clan.

The representative value is not valid anymore after 2 years of worldwide presence because of the failed WC3L Season XIV qualification and the descent in the NGL TWO.

Therefore, a future cooperation is not possible in spite of financially efficient structures. The players have been offered pleasing alternatives to fulfill the contracts so that they are not hindered.

One parts with the strategy game genre and nevertheless one doesn't want to deny a future engagement in this department.

The hoorai GmbH will soon announce new highlights and won't deprive the community of news.
